Our mission: Project Forge's community educational approach is unique. Our programs and tools don't focus on children directly. We expand that impact by focusing on those who touch the lives of kids on a daily basis, such as probation officers, teachers, parents, and community leaders.

We chose an experiential approach for long-term impact. We follow the philosophy: "Feed the teachers, nourish the students." By using innovative leadership and forgiveness tools, we are transforming environments for our children.
